WATER STREET BREWERY HISTORY

Since 1987, Water Street Brewery has produced more than 105,968 half-barrels, which is approximately 1,610,261 gallons of beer. Over the past 39 years, 100 different styles of beer have been brewed at Downtown, Lake Country, Grafton and Oak Creek locations. Since 1988, 24 medals have been won at both the Great American Beer Festival in Denver, the North American Brewers Association in Idaho Falls and the Best of Craft Beer Awards.

WATER STREET BREWERY BEER MEMORABILIA

The Water Street Brewery Beer Memorabilia collection consists of one-of-a-kind beer and brewing artifacts, many of which are featured in “The World of Beer Memorabilia” book. This extensive collection is on display at all of our Water Street Brewery locations, as well as The Brewery, located in Milwaukee on Water Street. Included are:

- 50,000 cans- 6,000 arranged and featured in 25 impressive wood framed displays
- 1,400 beer tap knobs and handles
- 2,300 coasters
- 825 bottle and can openers
- 35 original Wisconsin Brewery lithographs
- 350 server trays
- 75 exterior corner signs
- 475 large and miniature bottles
- 125 neon signs
- and many chalk figures, pictures, signs and wooden crates

BARREL AGED BEER

In 1992 Greg Hall of Chicago’s Goose Island brewery acquired wooden barrels that held Jim Beam Bourbon, and the bourbon BARREL-AGED BEER era began, with other breweries soon following suit.

KEY REASONS TO BARREL AGE BEER

- | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------|
| -Flavor Infusion | -Transformation of Styles |
| -Softening/Oxidation | -Spirit/Wine Residue |
| -Increased Body | -Microbial Complexity |

In 2016 Water Street Brewery started both spirit and wine barrel aging with a bourbon barrel aged release around Black Friday each year. Barrel aging has grown from the initial strong dark beer in bourbon barrels, to a variety of styles including rye and both red and white wine barrels. Continuing to blend styles by this method of barrel aging creates unique offerings and collaborations for the future.
